Viking Weapons

Vikings used a variety of weapons in combat, including swords, axes, spears, bows and arrows, and shields. Each weapon had its own advantages and disadvantages, and Vikings were skilled in using all of them. Their favorite weapon was the sword, which was a versatile weapon that could be used for both slashing and thrusting. Vikings also used axes, which were ideal for close-quarters combat. Spears were used for long-range combat, and bows and arrows were used for hunting and sniping. Shields were used for defense, and they were often decorated with intricate designs.
