The Full Cupboard of Life, book by Alexander McCall Smith

The Full Cupboard of Life is the sixth book in the No. 1 Ladies' Detective Agency series by Alexander McCall Smith. It was first published in 2000 and introduces the character of Mma Makutsi, who becomes Precious Ramotswe's assistant.

The book begins with Precious Ramotswe contemplating her life and her future. She is content with her job as a private investigator, but she feels that something is missing. She is lonely and she longs for a family. One day, she meets Mma Makutsi, a young woman who is looking for a job. Precious hires her as her assistant and the two women quickly become friends.

The book follows Precious and Mma Makutsi as they investigate a series of cases, including a missing husband, a stolen car, and a case of infidelity. Precious uses her intuition and her knowledge of human nature to solve the cases, while Mma Makutsi provides her with practical support and a fresh perspective.

The Full Cupboard of Life is a heartwarming and humorous story about friendship, love, and the importance of family. It is a celebration of the African culture and a reminder that even the smallest things can make a big difference in our lives.
